Pathways: Cadence Leadership Development

Cadence Leadership Development seeks to provide intentional and organized pathways and opportunities for growth and development of Cadence staff personally (spiritually and relationally), professionally (ministry skills and strategy), and positionally (for those desiring increased responsibilities in Cadence and beyond) which will also result in greater kingdom influence and impact to the military communities with whom we serve and share the gospel and our lives.

You are invited to participate in one or both optional pilot courses. More information will be coming in January, including registration information.
